

► Southern California is the headquarters for a lot of customizing agents and companies. Having a rolling business card is a major necessity if you want to get your name on the streets and keep your appointment book full. Southern Californians also have access to major bodies of water surrounding them with miles of beckoning liquid coolness. It is only natural to have a boat as part of your stable, hence our Water Toys feature this month.

◀ Sitting shotgun in the pictured fun run is yours truly. We have to test them before we can approve them for editorial. There's nothing like a weekday on a local lake. Can you say empty?

Doug Dobson is the owner and headmaster of HTS Custom Motorsports in Simi Valley, California, and the visuals laid in front of you here are his personal pleasure items. Doug has a constantly overflowing appointment book filled with impressive trucks, and we are amazed he found the time to create a high-profile roller for himself. Beginning with the trailer hauler, you'll find an '03 GMC 2500 HD 4x4 with a rambling diesel under that highly detailed hood. Twelve inches of lift are fit to this rig with help from Bulletproof Suspension. Front suspension consists of a drop front cage with upper
