

Forbidden Fantasy

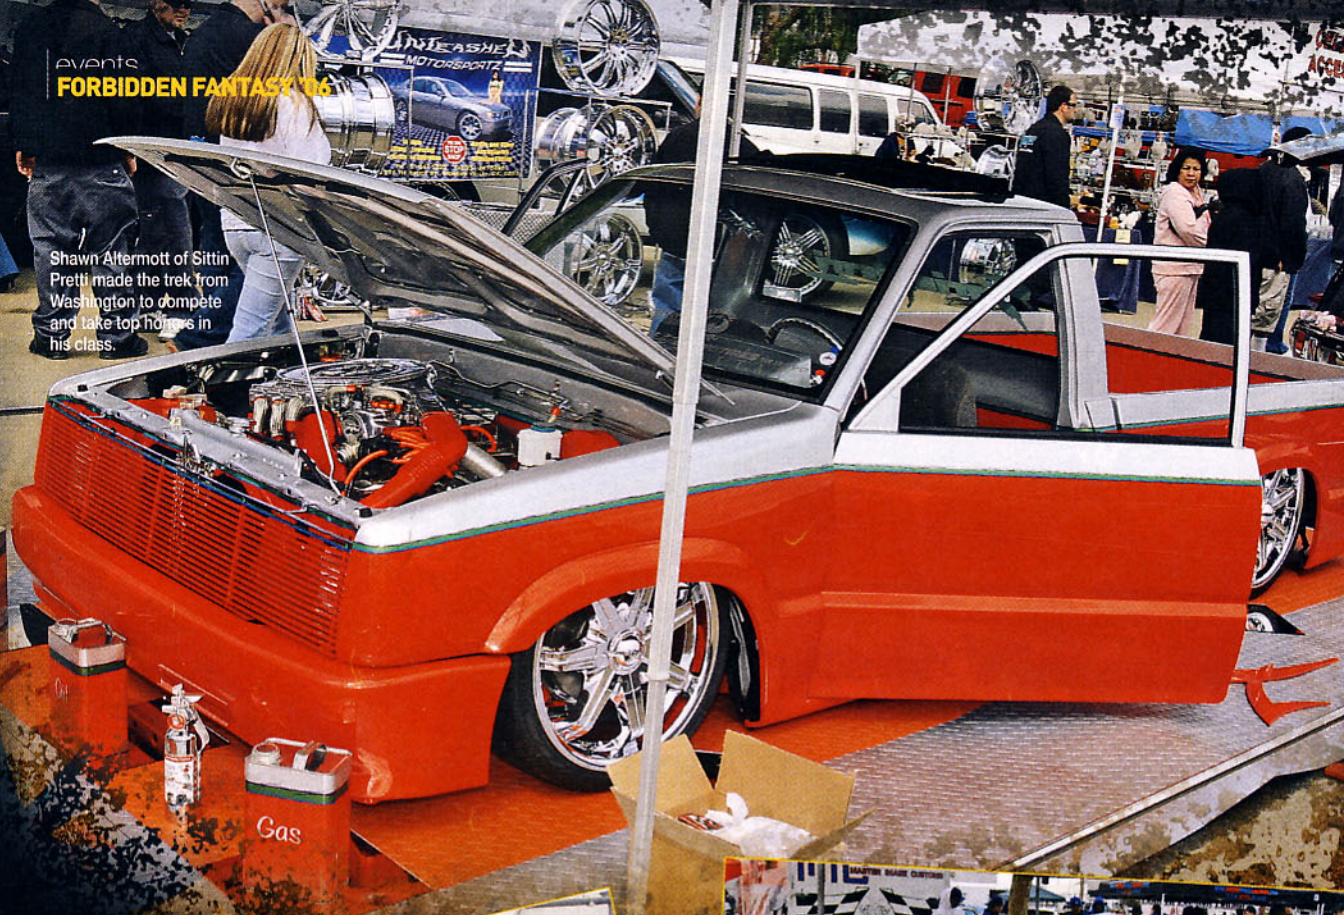

Forbidden Fantasy (FFF) has thrown this show for nine years, and by the looks of it, this club is not going to stop anytime soon. For the last seven years, this show has pulled 500-plus vehicles, and in the last two years more than 700, making this the largest one-day show thrown by a truck club in the nation. This club has always pulled together and risen above any problems that have come along. And for this year's show, Mother Nature finally had something to say and threw everything she had (even left-over truck parts) at this club.

FORBIDDEN FANTASY '06

Shawn Altemott of Sittin' Pretty made the trek from Washington to compete and take top honors in his class.

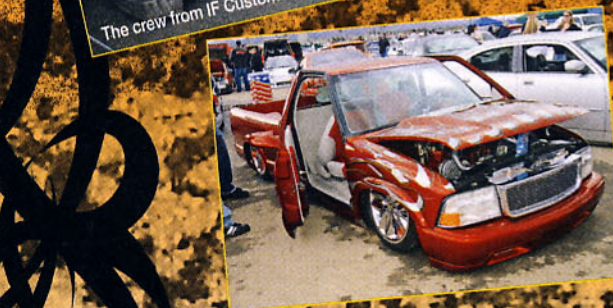

Hey, Oliver, did you just poop your pants... wait, we don't want to know.

The crew from IF Customs was hard at work.

Hey, Marlon, your kid pimps your truck better than you do.
